

LubeCoach Pro is the most comprehensive Lubrication Program Development tool ever produced.

LubeCoach Pro is a tool that a company's own technicians can use to create well-defined work practices. It efficiently organizes the multitude of detailed decisions needed to produce robust machine lubrication practices no matter how many different individuals perform the data collection input.

LubeCoach Pro provides:

- User-friendly data collection
- Customized rules-based functionality
- Simple, accurate, consistent results

LubeCoach Pro gives the end-user the knowledge of a professional lubrication specialist at a fraction of the cost of outside support.

LubeCoach Pro delivers a 'finished' lubrication program specification in a variety of output formats, matching virtually any CMMS import format requirement.

We know it works. We use it for our own consulting projects.
